The remains were placed in the vault at Bock Creek Cemetery.

FERIALS no local disease has puzzled and balled the medical profession more than masal cample. While not immediately fatal it is among the most distressing, nauscous and disposing libs the flesh is helr to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cures of chronic catarin by any of the multi-tude of modes of treatment until he introduction of Ety's Grean Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising.

yesterday morning by the explosion of the boiler. It is supposed that he was near the boiler at the time of the accident, and when found in a corner of the building a heavy beam lay across his head. Mr. Lamond, in speaking about the accident, said:

"I went down to the engine room about 8 o'clock this morning to see why the steam was not on. The men were waiting to go to work, and I wondered what was the cause of the delay. I found the boiler full of water. I said to Henry, 'What is the matter?' He said, 'Nothing; the fire is a little slow: I will have steam up pretty toon.' I then left the boiler house, and a few minutes after that the explosion occurred. There was between eignty-five and ninety pounds of steam on, and we needed ninety-five pennds to start with. I have no dea why the explosion occurred. The boiler was a good one, about forty horsepower, and two years ago it was inspected by Boiler Inspector Wilkinson. The inspectorsaid that it was a first-class boiler. I was just on the point of putting in a new boiler, as the old boiler was not enough to run the works. Henry was a good, careful man, and there could be no better man for the business. He had been working about the engine for two years and fulls understood his business."

The boiler house, which was a two-story brick, was demolished by the explosion, and the boiler was hurled through and adiolizing frame, and after going a distance of seventy feet buried itself in a mass of clay. Several men narrowly escaped being killed Sergt. Slattery and three officers went to the recene of the accident and did all possible under the circumstances. The dead man was removed to his late home, which is located near the works. Coroner Patterson will hold an Inquest at the works

THE "AVENGER" AT BOYD'S. Bill Jones and His Companions Make

Times Lively. Michael Lynch, of Boyd's station, Md , reported at police headquarters yesterday that Bill Jones, better a nown as the "Avenger," and who gained some notoriety by shooting at Guiteau, was with some companions terrorizing the people of Boyd's station Lynch stated that Jones and his gang hacalida at his (Lynch's) house and said that he came there to shoot him. Mrs. Lynch and her children were the only occupants of the house and the lady was compelled to defend her house as best she could, as the gang made desperate efforts to break down the doors. Falling to accompilate their purpose they went to the postoffice and tried to shoot the postmaster, who with his family were compelled to fee to a place of safety. The men then rode about wildly and furiously shooting their pistols, and their disorderly conduct so frightened the people that many fled from their homes. The sheriff of the county was informed of the doings of the men. at Guiteau, was with some companion

Boston Symphony Orchestra Concert.
The Boston Symphony Orchestra is to visit this city on Wednesday next. As no place adequate to the hearing of so large a place adequate to the hearing of so large a body of music could be obtained for the evening, the management have decided to give the concert at Albaugh's Opera House on Wednesday afternoon. Probably no American city was more noted for musical culture than Boston, and this fine orchestra has done tot a little to satisfy and mold the taste of its native city. Twenty-four evening concerts and a like number of matinees are given each season, and the advance sale this year is upward of $100,000. Mr. Ger cke's assiduous training and the constant practice together have united to form an orchestra which the best musical critics acclare to be the equal of any in Europe. As a soloist, a more charming artist or skillful planist than Miss Aus der Ohe could not have been selected. The sale of tickets for the matinee of the Boston Symphony Orchestra begins this morning at Eilis's.

Mr. J. V. Brooke, of Warrenton, and J. Catlett Gibson, of Culpeper, Va., were in the city yesterday in attendance upon the United States court. The United States district court, Judge

Hughes presiding, was in session here yes-terdsy only for a short time, when an ad-journment was had until 10 o'clock this morning.

Journment was had until 10 o'clock this monning.

Judge Stuart, when asked by a reporter for the REPUBLICAN yesterday if he would make a prophecy as to who would be the next judge of the corporation court of this city, replied, "Yes: if our state senator, Mr. Moore, Indoress Mr. Norton he will, in all probability, receive the appointment, but I think he will be entirely governed by the wist es of the people, in which event he will advocate the appointment of Mr. Marhury." The stockholders of the various building essociations met at their rooms at Con-cordia Hall last evening, and elected the officers for their respective associations for officers for their respective associations for the ensuing year.

Judge Charles E. Stuart, counsel for the corporation of Alexandria, will file a suit in the United States circuit court to-day before Judge Hughes against the Alexandria Canal Company et als., praying that the sum of $58,355.79 may be paid to the city out of the proceeds derived from the sale of the properties belonging to the canal com-pany.

A Surprised Man. Mr. Charles Kaufman, the well-known and popular business man, was taken by surprise last night on reaching home and surplise last night on reaching home and finding a large-size crayon of himself, and many of his friends there awaiting him. "Happy Charile," as he is commonly called, was equal to the occasion and responded in a very neat speech, and then had his friends accompany him to the Mercantile Club, of which he is one of the charter members, and ordered for the "boyst" all they wanted, when speech making and merriment were the order of the evening.

Washington Beneficial Endowment Association

ASSESSMENTS-$1,000. This fee includes medical examination

The question is naturally asked, What will my insurance cost? In an association that has reached the years of the Washington Beneficial Endowment Association (in our eleventh year) it is unnecessary to give an estimated cost, but we can give an actual cost; and it is reasonable to suppose that in the future the cost will be about the same. The average cost has been ten assessments per year.
